In this lively new experiential program, you will be given powerful insights, tools, and opportunities for soul growth as you take a deeper look at reincarnation from a unique perspective.

Edgar Cayce gave approximately two thousand life readings over twenty-two years. Astonishingly, eighteen of these individuals were told that this might very well be their final incarnation in the earth plane. Why?

Edgar Cayce's grandson, Charles Thomas Cayce, PhD, became intrigued with that question. How did they earn that distinction and what could we learn from them? He has researched and analyzed the material of these eighteen people and shares, in depth, his insights with you. There are steps and attitudes in these life readings that you will learn and practice today that make the option to finish in the earth much more accessible than we might have thought.

His findings will not only entertain you when, as a masterful storyteller, he brings these people's stories to life – including the six he met with personally – but they will also surprise and inspire you.

You will leave with clear lines drawn between their experiences and your own, their life lessons and yours – and you will learn from their life journeys to create a more meaningful and purposeful life for yourself today.

Together we will:

- Take a deeper look at reincarnation – Cayce's views compared with others
- Examine six key characteristics that these eighteen people share
- Use three different tools to apply these characteristics to our lives
- Discover several "hidden gems" that Charles Thomas uncovered within this material and how they relate to our lives
- Share a free-ranging question-and-answer period with Dr. Cayce

"I think there are several exciting keys almost hidden in this material, keys that have clear relevance to us all. They have already changed and helped the way I deal with my life. I feel certain that others will benefit from them as well." Charles Thomas Cayce.

Charles Thomas Cayce, PhD, trained as a psychologist, is the grandson of Edgar Cayce and one of A.R.E.'s most popular presenters. He was president of the Association for Research and Enlightenment, Inc. (A.R.E.), for many years, where he worked to bring a holistic philosophy of management. He is president of the Edgar Cayce Foundation and a member of A.R.E.'s Board of Trustees. His expertise lies in the potential of our mind, in relationships, meditation, dealing with stress creatively, and the integration of spirituality into our daily lives.
